

Announcing World Shale Gas 3-5 November 2010

The whole world is talking about Shale Gas which is widely recognised as the energy game changer.

The potential for existing and new shale plays is massive and becoming rapidly more commercially attractive; whether you are a resource holder, producer, service company, technology provider or distributor, you will need to know how to make the most of these huge opportunities and how shale will help your business now.

The International Gas Union and American Gas Association have partnered to provide the solution, the World Shale Gas Conference and Exhibition is a meeting place and business platform for everyone concerned. The World Shale Gas Steering Committee will ensure a highly informative and interactive program and the world shale exhibition provides the essential showcase for your projects and technologies.

On behalf of the International Gas Union and the American Gas Association we look forward to you joining us, please contact our global team to see how your company can be involved:

Contact: the World Shale Gas organizing committee: Laurent Calvet
+44 20 7978 0018 or email lcalvet@thecwcgroup.com

www.worldshalegas.org

